Ragged Séndol's Further the Argument in Favor of the Engagement of an Alter-uate. Br. Gardner Picked to Win the Breeklyn. Sume Betting Transactions.

Starter Caraldy caused a continuous how! of disapproval from the big growd at Jamaica of dispiproval from the big crowd at Jamaica seaterday because of his ragged work at the post. For several days the starting had been very poor, but yesterday's sendoffs capped the climax. In the first race there was only a fair break, Royal Only getting much the hetter of it. But the start in the second event was a positive fright. When the barrier went up day Gryselle was left standing with her back to the tape, while Blue Ban, the favorite, was practically left too. Then in the third race Frizette beat the barrier and was under full headway before any of the others, winning the race, then and there, it seemed. winning the race then and there, it seemed.
When in a four horse event Philander was as good as left in the Montague Stakes there was no end of grumbling. In the fifth event Lady Anne was off flying, while Jersey Lady was left. Then as a climax Oraculum beat the starter in the last and got such an ac an-overtake him.

There is talk in certain darters that the docker Club should an ugurate the walk up system to assis' Mr. Cassidy in his work, but there is no real demand for a change of this cert. As matter of fact Mr. Cassidy used the standing start all winter at New Orie has and his work was excellent. Since preming the season here, however, Mr. Cassidy seems to have gone back. Whether his two retarting is due to overwork or to some poor starting is due to overwork or to some exher cause nebody seems to know, but the fact esmains that the public is finding fault and is also demanding an improvement. If the Jockey Club had decided last winter to tention two starters for the Metropelitan been much more satisfactory work at the barriers. It stands to reason that a starter who works all the year round without so much as a vacation becomes stale at times and to in meed of a rest.

If Starter Dade bad been regularly engaged by the Jockey Club to be on hand from day so glay it would be possible now and then to relieve Mr. Cassidy from the constant strain to which he is subjected. Dade is a first class starter, as his work at Brighton last wear and also at the Fair Grounds last winter proved beyond a doubt. In the West the exarting is divided up between Dick Dwyer and Jake Holtman, who have given satisfaction for many years. Taking this as a basis for an argument, many horsemen believe that the starting on the Jockey Club tracks should be divided between Cassidy and Dade, if only to satisfy the public demand for good sendoffs at the post. Patrons of the races have much to contend with. What with incompetent or foul riding, mile tracks with sharp turns and other obstacles, it is pulling on the agony in earnest when had starts may the aport. So that is why the crowd grundled audibly yesterday.

"I thought I had a chance to beat Dr. Gard-ner with Philander," said Trainer James Rowe of the Keene Stable after the running of the Montague stakes, "but I've changed my mind. Dr. Gardner is certainly a fine horse."

Rosse velced the opinion of nearly all the trainers and expert turimen who saw the Banneckburn colt win his race so easily.

When the Doctor went to the paddock to cool out he was surrounded by an admiring crowd. He was not tired a bit and seemed able to run right over again.

"I guess I was more tired than the horse," said Jack Martin. "I had all I could do to hold him in check, for he wanted to run the moment we left the post. He is a great race-horse and will take a lot of beating."

It is stready predicted that Dr. Gardner will win the Brooklyn Handicap. He will be pointed for that rich event by Trainer Weir sext Thursday, for which he would have to take up an eight pound penalty. When the horse breezed to the wire, Rig Tim Sullivan and his benchmen reared with delight. They and his benchmen roared with delight. They backed him heavily, as did Frank Farrell and Dave Johnson, for any price seemed good to them. Before the race there was some doubt as to whether Dr. Gardner could run in the mud, but Trainer Brandt, who handles Barney Sobreiber's borses, settled the question with the remark: "Ne can run on any kind of a track and in dry or soft going. He'll win in a romp!"

The books lost big money on the result of the Montague, as the crowd went to Dr. Gardner with much confidence and also took Philander for the place. Okenite, however, was an anchor to windward. The race was worth $2,000 to the winner. It was run for the first time in 1903, Yellow Tall, Ostrich and Inquisitor being the winners of it.

The Sullivans met a reversal, however, in the first race, for they backed Larry Mulligan's Sir Toddington heavily for the place. There was a solid play on Aletheuo, however, the erowd cashing all along the line. A club-house commissioner backed Royal Onyx from 12 down to 10. Rosemount burned up a bunch of Hoeral place wagers.

The amart people backed Thomas Calhoun in the second race, playing him down until he was practically an equal favorite with Blue Ban. It was believed that Sussex could not run in the mud, so she was allowed to recede from 5 to 2 to 9 to 2. But Sussex fooled everybody by running right back to her previous race. The result of this race was an effective cleanup for the layers.

Again the wise speculators went wrong in the Rosedale Stakes. With Jack Martin up and Ella O'Neill carrying two pounds everweight, the combination looked so in-viting that a heavy plunge sent the Burlew filly to the post a hot favorite. Frizette, meanwhile, receded from 8 to 5, original favcrite, to 5 to 2, although the reason was not Main. Tea Leaf. an added starter, got a play that backed her from 6 down to 5, while Italf Soversign and Tartan Maid were well taken across the boards. This race was also a source of profit to the price makers on the high stools. Previous winners of the Rose-dale Stakes were Julia M., Suzanne Rocka-mora, Lady Valentine and Dollie Dollars.

mora, Lady Valentine and Dollie Dollars.
Tokalon's splendid victory in the fifth race made it appear that the Tammany mare will make it extremely interesting in future events. She will start in the Metropolitan and will be fit. In resterday's affair she conceded sine pounds to Lady Anne, twenty to Bette of Pequest, twenty-nine to La Londe melte of Pequest, twenty-nine to La Londe and twenty-three to Jersey Lady. Because of the hask imposed by the handicapper and the belle? that she was not ready for a bruising race, the smart players let her go up in the betting. Most of them took Endy Anne because T. C. McDowell said that the Kinley Most of the Most of the Balle of Person of the State of Person of the Most of the State of the State of Person of the Most of the State of Person of the State Mack mare was never better. Belle of Pequest, who warmed up finely, was played three wars, while La Londe, because of a pull in the weighte and her fondness for heavy going, was backed from 5 down to 16 to 5.

The race was another winner for the books, although hundreds cashed in after the red board went up. ... "The Gray Ghost is the goods," was the dogue when the starters for the last race were announced. That meant that H. S. Newman's Don Domo, a gray gelding by Rancocas, was the supposed trick. Almost white, this old fallow who has a fine turn of speed was Bucket by a majority of the small bettorn, whese support kept him steady at 8 to 5. But the ghest had up too much weight and furthermore did not care for the track any tho well. The "insiders" went to Oraculum with a solid play, and as George Odom had him in splendid fettle there was nothing to it. Graculum has developed into a shifty threeyear-old and will win a lot of good races this year for his young owner. As there was streng play on Gallant Dan for the place, the ring broke better than even.

all Texans, are having good luck here just now. Fuller has won races with First Prenow. Fuller has won races with First Pre-mium and Tokalon, while Wood has scored with Sansamon and Hands Around. New-men will seen get the money with Don Domo. Among the layers who are discussing the chances of the various Metropolitan Handi-cap eligibles Reselves appears to be the change.

DR. GARDNER WINS GALLOPING

TIM SULLIVAN'S HORSE, AT ODDS ON. TAKES THE MONTAGUE.

Keene's Frizette Romps Away With the Rosedale Stakes—Tokalen First in a Hot Finish—Sussex, Oraculum and Alotheus Also Win Races at Jamaica.

Over a heavy track, Dr. Gardner, the crack Bannockburn horse owned by Timothy D. Sullivan, won the Montague Stakes, weight yesterday in a gallop. From the moment the barrier was raised Martin took Dr. Gardner to the front, where he remained to the end without being let down for an instant. In fact, Martin had all he could do to keep the horse from running too fast. From a specu-lative point of view Dr. Gardner was a real good thing, even at 7 to 19, for he won like a 1 to 5 shot, and those who accepted the short price felt as if they had run across money on the ground. But there were some very wise persone who said before the race that Dr. Gardner was not a really high class horse. that his recent victory in the Excelsior Handi cap was more luck than anything else and that in view of the muddy going he was not a good betting proposition. Consequently these persons turned to August Belmont's three-year-old Okenite, by Hastings, and backed him down to 14 to 5 from threes. James R. Keene's three-year-old Philander, by Ben Brush, was taird in favor at a to 1. There were only four starters, but Mr. Cassidy, whose work all the afternoon caused a lot of fault finding, let the barrier go to a poor sendoff. Dr. Gardner was away like a flash, but Philander was practically left. Martin got the rail in a jiffy, and then taking a firm grip on the bridle he let Dr. Gardner gallon along in front at an easy gait, turning into the backstretch with a lead of two lengths. Then Garner began to rush Philander up from the rear and near the far turn the Keene horse was within a length of the Bannock-burn coit, but this effort amounted to nothing. for Dr. Gardner romped away when his jockey let out a link, and when he hit the head of the homestretch he had an advan-tage of four lengths. Martin looked back then, and realizing that he had the race won he began to ease the Doctor up. At the wire the winner's margin was two lengths, while Philander lasted long enough to take the place from Okenite by a half a length. The latter was pocketed all through the last quarter of a mile. Dan Buhre was a length place from Okenite by a half a length. The latter was pocketed all through the last quarter of a mile. Dan Buhre was a length back. The time was 1:49 2-5.

Mr. Keene's Hamburg filly, Frizette, 5 to 2 second choice, beat the barrier in the Rosedale Stakes, for 'two-year-old fillies, five furiongs, made all the running and won in a gallop by three lengths in 1:03 2-5. Tartan Maid, 8 to 1, though legweary in the last sixteenth, was game under a hard drive and saved the place from Ella O'Neill, 2 to 1 favorice, by a head. The latter was off poorly and Martin did not get a chance for plain sailing until it was too late. Tea Leaf, backed down to 6, did not seem to like the going. August Belmont's Half Sovereign, by Hastings, ran as if both green and short.

In what was a sensational driving finish J. W. Fuller's Tokalon, winner of last year's Brooklyn Handicap, won the handicap for mares, three-year-olds and upward, five and a half furlongs, by a neck. She carried top weight, 126 pounds, and was well played at threes. Leady Anne was the favorice at 11 to 5, and Martin broke her out in front when the gate went up. the Kinley Mack mare rushing away from the others with a great turn of speed. Le Londe, backed down to 16 to 5, went after her but soon had enough. Then Tokalon and Belle of Pequest, 6 to 1, began to move up rapidly, and when Lady Anne turned into the short homestretch it looked as if she would be beaten. Martin kept her going, however, with the whip, but Tokalon on the outside and Belle of Pequest next to the rail soon had Lady Anne in trouble. Tokalon on the outside and Belle of Pequest had in the second race, for two-year-olds, five furlongs, in which F. A. Forsythe's Sussex, pitch of the pair running like a team to the money. The time was 1.09 2-5.

There was another thrilling finish in the second race, for two-year-olds, five furlongs, in which F. A. Forsythe's Sussex, pto 2, booked up with H. T. Griffin's Thomas Calhoun, 2 to 1, accond choice, at the head of the stretch, the pair running like a team to loping by three lengths in 1:08 2-5. Royal Onyx took the place from Larry Mulligan's Sw Toddington, 3 to 1, by half a length.

George Odom's Oraculum, 5 to 2 favorite, set a fast pace in the handicap at six furiongs and easily defeated Don Domo, the "Gray Ghost," 8 to 5, by three lengths. Gallant Dan, 4 to 1, was half a length back. Three faverites and two second choices rewarded the loyalty of the public. About 20,000 persons were in attendance. The summaries:

CLEAN SWEEP FOR QUAKERS. Columbia Falls to Take a First in Dual Tract

Athletes from the University of Pennsylvania had an easy time of it yesterday after-noon, when they met the aspiring runners and jumpers of Columbia in a dual meet at Columbia Oval, Williamsbridge. The score in points, 23 to 24, tells better than anything else the story of the meet, of what the Red and Blue could do and what Columbia could mot. In three contests, the 100, the 220 yard dash and the high jump, Columbia was not able to take a single place. In the others it was almost as bad, for in only one or two of the contests was there a Columbia man who

Harvard Freshmen Win in Rough Lacrosse Game

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 4.—The Harvard freshman lacrosse team to-day defeated the freshman team of the College of the City of New York by the score of 2 to 6. The game was roughly played throughout and the scoring was all done in the last half. One of the Harvard goals was actually knowled into the net by one of the swaw yorkers.

ing of the Mesdow Brook Steeplechase Asso-ciation was held to-day, a card of six races being run off with but few features. Possibly the most exceptional thing was that in the first three races the favorites were badly out of it. It was not until the fourth race that the bookmakers, of whom there were many on the grounds, began to lose back something of what they had won. The victory of Singleton Van Shaick's Adjutor in the last race was a punishing blow to the layers and most of them gave up all that they had taken out of the more favorable earlier part of the card.

The Adjutor race was watched for more eagerly than any other Mr. Van Schaick held his bay golding out of the fifth race on purpose to make the sixth his. Five horses purpose to make the sixth his. Five norses were named to start over the course of two and one-half miles of steeplechase, The Rats challenge cup being the prize offered. Two declined the issue just before the race was called, Paul J. Rainey's Dublin and Robert L. Geary's Lordling being acratched. That left in Malcolm Stevenson's bay gelding Colonel, W. C. Hayes's chestnut Red Fox and Adduter. Adjuter

Mr. O'Brien, who had what seemed a most remarkably quick recovery from his accident of last Saturday, was on Adjutor. It was supposed that Mr. O'Brien could not have been as badly burt at Cedarhurst as was at first said. The owners rode the two others. The books quoted a to 5 on Adjutor, the Colonel being third in the picking. It was not much of a race, as races go. Adjuter was carried to the front after the first time over the wood and came away handsomely thereafter. He and came away handsomely thereafter. He won by a distance that may be imagined. Red

Fox was second.

The bookmakers had their customers in line for a long time after the race was over and they had se rause money to get that the special train was late in leaving for Long Island City The day was fine for chasing although, per-haps, there was a bit too much wind. The weather was warm and the early threats of rain were not made good. The crowd at the races was great.

The reversals for the favorites began right away. F. Ambrose Clark's Bayonet was an oilds on choice in the first race. This was the Introductory hurdle race of about two miles. Bayonet came to grief over the third miles. Bayonet came to grief over the third hurdie and T. O'Brien could finish ealy on foot, if at all, H. A. Bourne's Double O. cleverly managed by Freddie Alpers, did not have a great deal of trouble getting home in front of Pierre Lorillard's Huddy. J. Watson Webb's Lady Marco took a tumble a little while after Bayonet dropped, and so there were only five horses to finish out of seven which started. It was a great satisfaction to Mr. Alpers to beat out the professionals. Brennan was on the second horse and C. Roberts had the mount on Oaklawn, which carried off the show honors.

The crowd greatly fancied W. C. Hayez's bay mare Halidame in the second race. There were five other starters. C. W. Fisk's Apple Jack dropped his rider early in the struggle. Outside of Apple Jack. Patagonian was the least favored by the gallery. Patagonian was quoted at 5 to 1, at which figures the few who thought well of the Del Paso strain were enabled to cash. Mr. Page rode his own Parson Kelly and got second place after very little of a fight. The favorite finished fourth, Mr. Clark losing a stirrup leather or some such thing, which naturally did not help his riding.

Mr. Catins worked hard to bring in Maid of

Mr. Clark losing a stirrup leather or some such thing, which naturally did not help his ricking.

Mr. Gatins worked hard to bring in Maid of All Work third, a comfortable distance before the favorite. Mr. Webb's Canton was last. Mr. Fisk got rather a hard fall, but it did not hurt him to any extent.

The crowd began to think that it was rather too much of a good thing in the third race when another choice went all wrong. That was W R. Grace's Ell There was such a rush to get aboard that the price of Ell was down to 4 to 5 in three shakes. All the others were the other way, it being a case of 4 to 1 and take your pick. James Watson Webb's imported Marcotine was not currently supposed to have any very great chance. Those who played moetly had the idea that Marcotine would finish second. However, in a flat race Ell did not come anywhere near being what the quoted figures were supposed to show. In fact, at no time was Ell in the race, Marcotine put in a little while racing with Mr. Cowdin's Anticipation and then came away very cleverly in the stretch.

The best context in this particular race was for third place. Recruit and Ell had a stiff battle all the way down the stretch and finished locked together. The favorite managed to be third, however.

The fields began to thin down greatly after the third race. In the fourth ten were supposed to go, but scratches reduced that number to three. Harry S. Page's gray, Onteors, had about all the following, with James Watson Webb's oddly named Nuit Blanche so close up that it was only a point between them. M. C. Maxwell's Agio was rightly left out of consideration. Mr. Page never had the least trouble winning the race. Nuit Blanche fell rather early in the context and Agio ran out. It took a long time after Mr. Page had finished for Mr. Hopkins to restore himself to his seat on Nuit Blanche and finished for Mr. Hopkins to restore himself to his seat on Nuit Blanche and finished for Mr. Hopkins to restore himself to his seat on Nuit Blanche and finished for Mr. Hopkins to res

Mrs. Eloise Kernochan having two wins for the Meadew Brook Cup was rather in bopes of taking it again and getting permanent possession. She had Cresset, a small but determined looking gelding, in the race. The entry of Willie Price which won so handily at Cedarhurst the week before, however, gave most persons the impression that the race was as good as in, Willie Price showed last week that he had rare qualities as a cross-country horse, and his race to-day was all the more proof. He took the lead and was never headed. It was merely a gallop in all appearance, and those who had fancied Cresset had to admit that there was no comparison.

Willie Price gave a remarkable exhibition and finished apparently within himself. It was said at Cedarhurst last week that he never had been beaten in a meeting of this kind, his few defeats in the last three seasons being on the regular tracks. Cresset tried hard after going into second place after about a mile and three-quarters to hold the advantage over Diana. It was an unavailing attempt and in a drive to the fulse Diana got the place.

The last race already has been spoken of These was one unpleasant incident. Harry S.
